Question	Response
Will hydroblasting be needed to remove any existing or conflicting markings or will the milling process be responsible for that?	Answer Posted on 4/6/2011 @ 12:15PM: The requirements for removal of any existing or conflicting markings for this contract can be found in the 2010 Standard Specifications for Road and Bridge Construction under specification 102-5.8. The Prime Contractor and their subcontractors shall be responsible for the removal of any existing or conflicting markings.
