Frequently Asked Questions

Where can I use my Disabled Toll Permit?
You may use your permit to access all Florida toll roads. Your Disabled Toll Permit allows you to apply for and purchase a Non-Revenue SunPass Mini Transponder which can then be used through “unmanned” toll lanes.

Can I use a SunPass Transponder that I already own?
No. You cannot use a SunPass Transponder that you already own or purchase a new one at a retail store because the Non-Revenue SunPass Mini Transponder must be specially programmed.

What is a Non-Revenue SunPass Mini Transponder?
A Non-Revenue SunPass is a small transponder (electronic device) that is attached on the inside of your vehicle’s windshield. If you are approved for a Disabled Toll Permit, you can apply for and purchase a Non-Revenue SunPass Mini Transponder (non-moveable sticker) which will identify you as an authorized toll-free user.

You must submit an application to SunPass along with your payment for the Non-Revenue SunPass Mini Transponder in order to have a Non-Revenue SunPass. This must be done in order for the SunPass system to recognize your SunPass as a Non-Revenue SunPass when you use “unmanned” lanes. This is in addition to and after you have received your approved Disabled Toll Permit.

Where can I use a Non-Revenue SunPass?
A Non-Revenue SunPass provides toll-free access to specially marked Florida toll lanes that accept SunPass as a method of payment. E-Pass (operated by the Orange County Expressway Authority), MDX (operated by the Miami-Dade Expressway Authority), LeeWay (operated by the LeeWay Service Center in Lee County), CFXWay (operated by the Central Florida Expressway Authority) and THEA (operated by the Tampa Hillsborough Expressway Authority) also honor SunPass devices.

What are the advantages of a Non-Revenue SunPass?
A Non-Revenue SunPass provides toll-free access to Florida toll roads that accept SunPass. SunPass also allows the driver of the vehicle to access nonstop SunPass Only lanes, alleviating the need to use a manned booth and cutting down on wait time.

Who is eligible for a Non-Revenue SunPass?
Anyone possessing a Disabled Toll Permit is also eligible for a Non-Revenue (toll-free) SunPass Mini Transponder. A Non-Revenue SunPass Mini Transponder can be obtained by filling out an additional application that comes with your approved Disabled Toll Permit and submitting the completed Non-Revenue SunPass Mini Transponder application along with a payment of $4.99 plus any applicable sales tax to purchase the SunPass.

Do I have to pay for a Non-Revenue SunPass Mini Transponder?
Yes. Although a Non-Revenue SunPass allows the driver toll-free access to toll roads, the patron must purchase a Non-Revenue SunPass Mini Transponder. The total cost for a mini transponder is $4.99 plus any applicable sales tax.
How do I get a Non-Revenue SunPass Mini Transponder?
All requests are processed through the Florida SunPass. Applications are available through the Florida Commission for the Transportation Disadvantaged website at www.dot.state.fl.us/ctd/tollpermit, or by contacting SunPass directly at (561) 488-5344.

Who should be contacted if the transponder is not working properly or needs to be repaired?
Customers should call SunPass directly at (561) 488-5312 and explain any issues. SunPass Mini Transponders are warranted against manufacturing problems or defects 45 days from the date of purchase.
