Public Hearing scheduled June 28 for Starke Railroad Overpass

Starke – The Florida Department of Transportation (FDOT) is hosting a public hearing to provide the public with updated information on the proposed Starke Railroad Overpass.

The public hearing is scheduled Tuesday, June 28 at the Bradford County Fairgrounds in Building 1 located at 2300 North Temple Avenue, Starke, FL. The public can drop by an Open House from 4:30 to 6:30 p.m. to view displays and talk with FDOT staff. A presentation and comment period will follow at 6:30 p.m.

Project information has been available for review since June 7 at the Bradford County Library located at 456 West Pratt Street in Starke.

Public participation is sought without regard to race, color, religion, sex, age, national origin, disability or family status. Persons who require special accommodations under the Americans with Disabilities Act or persons who require translation services (free of charge) should contact Stephen Browning at least 7 days prior to the hearing.
