

JAMES M. KILLOUGH, JR.

President

PBS&J Construction Services, Inc.

Mr. Killough is responsible for directing construction related operations involving multi discipline professional and technical personnel assigned to provide construction management services on projects throughout the firms office network. He has more than 35 years of experience in the construction of roadway, bridge, airport, building and environmental construction projects. He has considerable experience in the analysis and resolution of construction claims and has served on numerous occasions as an expert witness in construction related litigation.

EXPERIENCE

September, 1992 to Present

President

PBS&J Construction Services, Inc.

Plantation, Florida

Directs and supervises management of a staff of approximately 250 professional, technical and related support personnel who provide a variety of construction management services throughout the United States and in the Caribbean. Specific services that are provided include construction program management, construction engineering and inspection (CE&I) for roadway and bridge construction projects, contract administration and inspection for water and sewer facility construction, scheduling, estimating and inspection of building construction projects.

January 1987 through August 1992

Sr. Vice President, Director of Construction Services

Post, Buckley, Schuh & Jernigan, Inc.

Ft. Lauderdale, Florida

Mr. Killough was responsible for directing multi discipline professional and technical personnel resources involved in various construction management and construction engineering and inspection related operations throughout the firms office network in the United States. During this period PBS&J was involved with providing construction phase services for various roadway, bridge, airport, building and environmental construction projects with a total construction contract value in excess of 370 million dollars.

1983 through 1986

Construction Services Manager

Post, Buckley, Schuh & Jernigan, Inc.

Miami, Florida

Mr. Killoughs' activities involved the direction of personnel involved in construction management and contract administration related operations for various major roadway, bridge and airport facilities construction projects throughout Florida and in other of the firms offices in the Southeastern United States.

September 1977 through 1982

Resident Engineer

Post, Buckley, Schuh & Jernigan, Inc.

Islamorada, Florida

Mr. Killough served as Resident Engineer in charge of contract administration, construction engineering and inspection (CE&I) of 12 bridges on the Overseas Highway (US 1) in the Florida Keys for the Florida Department of Transportation. The total value of the construction contracts involved exceeded 85 million dollars and the projects that the firm provided CE&I services for included the Seven Mile Bridge, which is the world's longest segmental concrete bridge.

JAMES M. KILLOUGH, JR.

Page Two

April 1976 through August 1997 Manager of Special Projects
Capeletti Bros., Inc.
Hialeah, Florida

Mr. Killough was responsible for estimating, bidding and managing various underground, building, highway and bridge construction projects. He was also involved in the development of the company's real estate resources and in the management of various mining operations and aggregate production facilities.

September 1974 through March 1976 Vice President
Bob Young, Inc.
Miami, Florida

Mr. Killough was responsible for estimating, bidding and subsequent contract administration and management of the construction of various excavation, grading, drainage, paving, sanitary and water distribution systems and site development projects in Dade and Broward Counties.

May 1973 through August 1974 Project Manager
Capeletti Bros., Inc.
Hialeah, Florida

As Project Manager for the company, Mr. Killough was responsible for the management of construction of two major sections of the South Dade Expressway. The projects included extensive earthwork, paving and bridge construction phases which were required to be completed in a condensed period of time.

February 1971 through April 1973 Project Manager
Ballenger Corporation
Greenville, South Carolina

As Ballenger Corporations' joint venture project manager (Potashnick/Ballenger, Corporation) in Puerto Rico, Mr. Killough supervised construction operations for two sections of the San Juan-Ponce Expressway with a total construction cost of 52 million dollars. He was responsible for construction of phases of the underground drainage system, concrete paving, a toll plaza, administrative buildings and 19 bridges including 6 major structural steel structures.

February 1970 through January 1971 Assistant District Construction Engineer
Florida Department of Transportation
Ft. Lauderdale, Florida

Mr. Killough directed Resident Engineering functions involving contract administration, construction engineering and inspection of all federal-aid, state, primary and secondary roadway and bridge construction projects in the Dade and Monroe County divisions of the Departments' Fourth District.

August 1968 through January 1970 Resident Engineer
Florida Department of Transportation
Dade County, Florida

Mr. Killough was in charge of contract administration, construction engineering and inspection of the Department's roadway, bridge, building and related construction projects in Dade County at the peak of the Interstate Expressway Construction Program.

July 1964 through July 1968 Civil Engineer, 2nd Lt. through Captain
U. S. Air Force

During this period, Mr. Killough was awarded the U. S. Air Force Bronze Star medal for meritorious achievement while assigned as Resident Engineer during the accelerated construction of a major air base in Vietnam in 1966/1967.

JAMES M. KILLOUGH, JR.

Page Three

EDUCATION

B.S., Civil Engineering
The Citadel, 1964

PROFESSIONAL AFFILIATIONS

American Arbitration Association
American Concrete Institute
American Society of Civil Engineers
Dispute Review Board Foundation
Florida Board of Realtors
Florida Engineering Society
National Society of Professional Engineers

REGISTRATIONS/CERTIFICATIONS

Professional Engineer, Florida
Certified General Contractor, Florida
Certified Diver, Open Water International
Real Estate Broker, Florida